Lipodrene/Eph 100ct Yellow Tablet

Lot Number 101210467

Expiration 04/26

To Whom it May Concern:

There have been some inquiries regarding the color of the current lot of Lipodrene. The color is a lighter yellow than normally on the tablets. Lipodrene is hydroscopic which makes it extremely hard to tablet and coat when there is any humidity. We normally try to have all our tablets that require coating finished in early spring to get us through the summer months but because of the current issues with getting ingredients in we were not able to do so this year. We want to make it clear that this has no effect on the efficacy of the product. It works just as well as all previous lots but just not as yellow as we would like it to be. We hope this clears up any questions or concerns regarding this lot of Lipodrene.

Thank you
